

CV of Failures

About

To quote the original article ¹:

As scientists, we construct a narrative of success that renders our setbacks invisible both to ourselves and to others. Often, other scientists' careers seem to be a constant, streamlined series of triumphs. Therefore, whenever we experience an individual failure, we feel alone and dejected. [...] So here is my suggestion. Compile an 'alternative' CV of failures. Log every unsuccessful application, refused grant proposal and rejected paper.

I like this idea and would like to contribute. I've organized it by academic periods in my life.

High School

Morristown High School, Morristown, NJ

Fall 2006 - Spring 2010

- I missed National Merit Scholar.
- For college I applied to and was rejected from: Cornell, Princeton, Duke, Brown, Columbia and didn't even bother applying to the other top schools.

Undergrad

Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ

Fall 2010 - Spring 2014

- I applied to 14 summer REU's and was rejected from 12 of them.
- I failed to earn a single point on the Putnam Exam.
- I got a ≈ 650 on the GRE Math Subject Test and was too embarrassed to send it to schools.
- For graduate school I applied to and was rejected from: NYU CS PhD, UPenn CS PhD, Brown CS PhD, Duke CS PhD and didn't even bother applying to top schools like MIT or Stanford. Columbia IEOR accepted me off the waitlist.

Grad School

Columbia University, New York, NY

Fall 2014 - Spring 2019

- I was rejected from NSF GRFP.
- I applied to the George Nicholson Student Paper competition thrice and a slew of other INFORMS paper competitions and lost almost all of them.
- Multiple rejections at EC and OR.

Job Market Interlude

- I wasn't invited to the INFORMS doctoral consortium or any sort of young-up-and-coming-scholars workshop.
- None of the schools that interviewed me at INFORMS invited me for a flyout.
- Overall, I applied to 40+ domestic business and engineering schools and received 40+ rejections.

Assistant Professor

University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA

Summer 2019 -

- First course I taught to business undergrads was a complete disaster. My course rating was $\approx 2.8/5$.
- Multiple conference rejections from EC and WINE.
- Multiple rejections from MSOM SIG and RMP Spotlight.
- Journal rejections from MS and MSOM.
- Submitted to many more paper competitions and continued to lose most of them.
